GRADED TAX ON INHERITANCE IS REVENUE PLAN

Commissioner of Immigration Howe Explains Details to Administration.

Federal inheritance tax, with increase in the income tax into the Federal treasury, is a proposal Commissioner of Immigration Prederic C. Howe, of New York, has just laid before Administration of-

has prepared a memorandum o new sources of Federal revenue to equalize the burden of taxation, to meet the Treasury deficit, and to pro-vide for national defense. "There are two sources of increased revenue," says Commissioner Howe. Probably $3,000,000,000 changes hands through death every year. If 50 per would leave a taxable fund of $1,500,000,000, which, if taxed at a progressive rate from 1 to 5 per cent

"Great Britain, in 1914," declares Mr.
Howe. "collected $5.40 per capita from duties, 45 per cent of her total revenues coming from these sources. In Germany, it appears the income tax is a chief source of revenue both for state and municipal purposes, ranging from 4 to 15 per cent.

Every demand of justice suggests that the burden of Federal taxation should be adjusted. Certainly an increase should not be thrown upon the backs of the poor. It should be collected from those best able to bear it. The taxable incomes, both personal and corporate, exclusive of exemptions, amount probably to $6,000,000,000.

Mr. Howe is of the belief that bills taxing inheritances and incomes should be introduced into Congress and given a prominent place in the discussion of revenue supply in the coming session. Mr. Howe's suggestions have been laid before high Administration officials. They are receiving serious consideration.

This Week's Photoplays

STRAND.

The time of which Thackeray wrote in "Vanity Fair," if not the spirit of the novel, is visualized in the film version in which the Edison-Kleine pro-ducing combination present Mrs. Minnie Madern Fiske at the Strand today, and which will be shown again tomorrow. With few exceptions the production was unusually true to the time it was intended to represent and the work of several of the members of the cast was well conceived and executed.

Mrs. Fiske as Becky Sharp suggested her stage version of the character. Loonia Flugrath was seen as Becky as a child. As Amelia Sedley, Helen Fulton gave one of the best performances in which she has been seen. Robert Brower as old Caborne and George Wright as Marquis Steyne were excellent. Brower giving the best characterisation of the entire cast. Bigelow Cooper visualizes Rawdon Crawley and Maurice Stewart, Jr., made a good showing as old Crawley. Richard Tucker, William Wadsworth, Frank McGlynn, Helene Strickland, and Yale Benner also appear in the production. nie Madern Fiske at the Strand today. McGlynn, Helene Strickland, and Yale Benner also appear in the production. Wednesday and Thursday Howard Estabrook is to be seen in the photo-play based on Henry Rowland's novel, "The Closius Net," and Friday and Saturday Aubrey Smith will be pre-sented in "John Glayde's Honor," an adeptation of Alfred Sutro's play.

CRANDALL'S.

CRANDALL'S.

"The Little Minister," by James M. Barrie, cloaked under the title of "The Little Gypsy," for photoplay purposes, serves to introduce Dorothy Bernard in a new character at Crandall's today—that of Lady Babble, made famous on the stage by Maude Adams. In the photoplay production the Barrie story has a much wider scenic display and the action has been changed to give the character of the whimsical heroine a greater range. Miss Bernard realizes this character in the fullest measure.

Thurlow Beigen former leading man of the Poli Player, is seen as the minister, the part pix ed on the stage by Robert Edeson. The other characteries are presented by Fox Film Company members in their usual completeness. "The Little Gypsy" will be repeated tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday.

One of the best known of the child stars of the stage, Mary Miles Minter. is the featured member of the cast of "Emmy of Stork's Nest," the principal attraction at the Garden Theater to-day. The story tells of a child who has been left to her own resources and battles against adversity. The picture will be shown again tomor-

Thursday and Friday Harold Lockwood will again be seen in "The House of Scandal." Saturday and Sunday Earle Williams is to be introduced in person to the people who have seen him only on the screen and will present a monologue that will enable him to tell something of the work of motion picture actors and actresses and give a few characterizations from his best known photoplay productions. "An additional $50,000,000 or $100,000,000 collected in taxs upon incomes, including the surtax. The income tax in Great Britain has in recent years been raised to 33 per cent upon very large incomes. From these combined sources, from $100,000,000 to $100,000,000 could easily be added to our Federel revenues."

Commissioner Howe, who bases his estimate upon orficial figures, calculates that out of the $700,000,000 collected in taxes in 1911 by the Federal Government, only 3 per cent came from direct taxation. Most of the Federal revenue comes from taxes upon consumption rather than from taxes upon wealth, incomes, and inheritances.
